City of Cayce Announces Financial Transparency

The City of Cayce has taken another step towards making information accessible to its residents. The city's financial information can be found at www.cityofcayce-sc.gov/financial_report.aspx. Online transparency makes information available with the click of a mouse to any citizen who wants to view it.

"There's no downside to providing citizens information about what their government is doing," says Mayor Elise Partin. "There are certainly many ways to do that. Councilman Steve Isom felt strongly about having the monthly check registers on-line and we're excited about it. Monthly financial reports have been on-line already on the city's website and now this offers an additional outlet."

The monthly check register will not only be available along with the city's monthly financial reports on the City of Cayce website, it will also be linked on the South Carolina Comptroller General's Local Government's transparency website at www.cg.state.sc.us.
