Councilwoman Corley was raised in the West Metro area and her husband, Brandon, is a Cayce native. When Corley's daughter grows up, she will be the fifth generation of Corley's family to attend Brookland-Cayce High School.

At 25 years old, she was the second youngest candidate to ever run for office in South Carolina and the second youngest ever elected to Council. Aside from taking care of people as a member of Council, Corley spent four years working as a Pediatric Operating Room Nurse until recently transferring to Palmetto Health's Corporate Supply Chain.

She is deeply involved with a range of Cayce's sights and organizations. Among them, she helps to beautify the Cayce Riverwalk and serves on the Cayce Beautification Foundation board, where is involved in planning the group's annual gala. Corley and her family can also usually be found at any of Cayce's great events.
